

From Vancouver to Ottawa – In Support of Zara Charity

Last year Tracy Pepper climbed Mount Kilimanjaro to raise awareness of Ovarian Cancer.

Tracy teamed with Zara Charity from Tanzania who supports the porters as well as orphans and the community.

One Mountain At A Time

Tracy Pepper was diagnosed with ovarian cancer at the tender age of 10 and was not expected to survive. Miraculously she did and she has devoted her life to charitable work in support of others.

Inspired

Whilst climbing Kilimanjaro, Pepper connected with the local African people who were under equipped and in need of warm clothing in order to support and help the thousands of Western people reach the summit of that treacherous mountain which hits lows in minus 20 degrees Celsius.

She donated her own personal items to a few of the porters who had very little. That small gesture was all it took to spark the inspiration to appeal to her friends in Canada – to donate unwanted winter clothing for the Porters of Kilimanjaro.

ONE MOUNTAIN AT A TIME

Tracy Pepper & Mike Wade-French

tracypepper@yahoo.com
mikewadefrench@gmail.com

Facebook: One Mountain At A Time
Blog: www.tracypepper.blogspot.co.nz

For Tanzania with LOVE

The Objective

To drive across Canada with an appeal to collect unwanted winter clothing – jackets, hats, gloves, boots, socks, thermal undergarments – as well as school supplies and children’s clothing for the orphanage and children of Tanzania.

They will drive through the interior of British Columbia, through Calgary & Edmonton, stopping in Winnipeg, Sudbury, Toronto with their final destination – the Nation’s Capital – Ottawa.

On September 4th, 2014 their journey will continue as they fly from Toronto to Kilimanjaro to work with Zara Charity on their numerous projects across Tanzania as well as helping to distribute the items they collected to the people

ONE MOUNTAIN AT A TIME

Tracy Pepper & Mike Wade-French

tracypepper@yahoo.com
mikewadefrench@gmail.com

Facebook: One Mountain At A Time
Blog: www.tracypepper.blogspot.co.nz

Tracy was given the African name “Pendo” by her new friends. The name means “Love”.

We will collect:

- Lightweight warm winter jackets
- Warm boots suitable for hiking
- Dry wicking long underwear
- Wool or fleece hats, gloves, scarves, etc.
- Camping supplies
- School supplies – pens, pencils, notebooks
- Digital cameras, electronic equipment (in working condition)